Spend four weeks learning about the Hmong populations in Thailand and Laos. Study the history of refugee settlement and resettlement and the contemporary issues facing the Hmong community.

You will learn about and engage with Hmong communities through course seminars, guest speakers, field trips, and time spent with Hmong families in homestays.

PROGRAM DETAILS:

- Receive 4 credits for one of the following classes: Anthropology 455, Geography 475, History 273, or Languages & Cultures of Asia 300.
- Co-led by UW-Madison Professor Ian Baird and UMN Professor Mai Na Lee.
- No language requirement.
